At Gaofeng, we create memorable and engaging audio content, giving life to stories that resonate with audiences globally. Our roots lie in the heart of China, the birthplace of our late visionary founder who introduced modern dubbing techniques to the region. Today, we are based in Taipei and Shanghai and our award-winning, world-class team of directors, producers, and audio engineers operates within studios equipped with the latest audio technology. With the creativity, quality control, and attention to detail you can only find in a boutique operation, we also have the resource and credibility of a major player in the audio production industry.
